NINETEEN SIXTY-ONE

Centralian

Dedication

We, the staff of the 1961 Centralian, dedicate this album of memories to our principal, M. K. Holzhausen, who has been a guiding influence in our school activities. He is a man whom we admire, a friend whom we trust, and an administrator whose authority we respect.

Mr. Holzhausen has quietly but firmly directed our thinking and our behavior so that our shadows have expanded as we followed his leadership.

Our Shadows Expand

"For I dipt into the future far as human eye could see. I saw the vision of the world, And all the wonders that would be."

As we studied and socialized, we learned to "walk tall," striving always to acquire some traits of leadership so that we might continue to grow. This 1961 Centralian pictures the story of our growth during this school year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

"Everything nourishes what is already strong." This quotation fits the student council well; for this year the council has grown even stronger, undertaken more responsibility, and continued in its original capacities unusually well. This body is the nucleus of every form of student affairs and school life, and the whole spirit of the school hinges on the leaders who serve on the council. May the members keep always aware of their obligations and may the group as a whole continue to grow in stature and wisdom.

CECIL E. ELLIOTT
County Superintendent

One of my many rewarding school experiences has been watching the growth and development of the Hancock Central Schools.

In my somewhat limited personal dealings with the schools' products, its students and its graduates, I have been deeply impressed with evidences of their splendid manners, courtesy, sportmanship, and high-class citizenship.

You will find that the relative importance of education grows with each succeeding generation. The success of our country as a nation and as individuals is commensurate with our ability to meet the challenge.

Judging from past experiences, I am confident that your community will continue to provide its children with the tools which will prepare them to meet the challenge.

"Here are your joys, your loves, your mistakes, captured and bound in this little book. They belong to you to live over again, page after page".

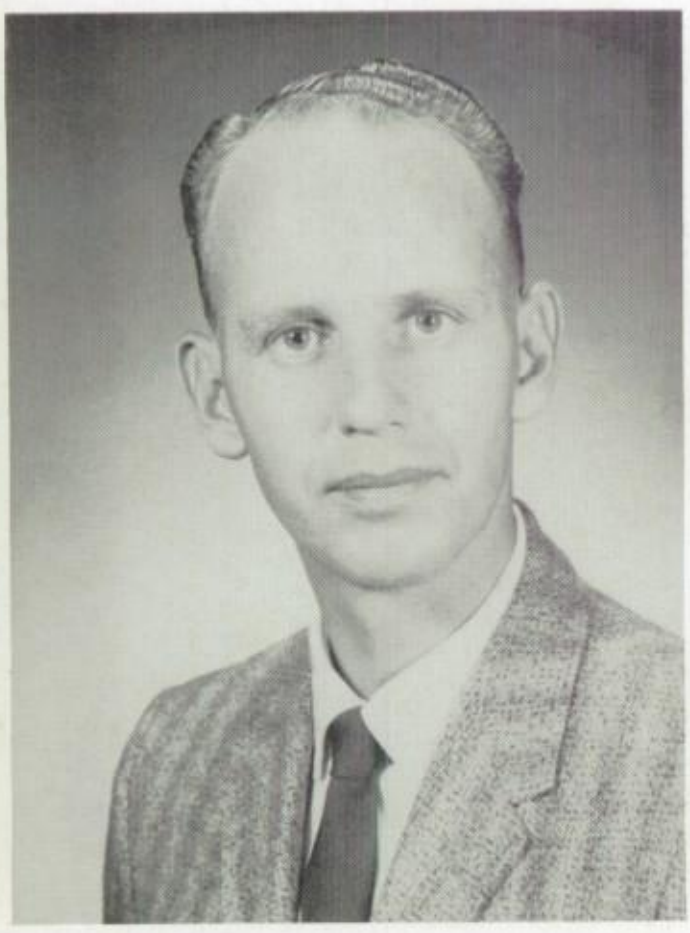
TO OUR SPONSORS



Mr. Delay, you have been more than a sponsor--you have been our friend, our financial advisor, and our counselor. We realize the enormity of your problems, especially during our junior year, when we were involved in so many money-making projects. Without your little black book, your insistant prodding, and your personality-plus that kept us "in line" and still on speaking terms, our junior and senior activities would have been "nil."

Miss Fesler, we appreciated your accepting an added responsibility your first year at Central, and we have enjoyed knowing you and working under your supervision.

FAREWELL

We've been together for twelve years,
But now the time of our parting nears.
We've worked hard and done well;
What the future holds--Time will tell.
Teachers lent a helping hand,
Our parents watched "Our Shadows Expand"
As we studied and had fun;
But it's time now to say, "Farewell
from the Class of '61."

"WHO KILLED AUNT CAROLINE"

"Who Killed Aunt Caroline", was an absorbing play of the Endicott family. The outstanding feature of the play was Aunt Caroline's mysterious death and the attempt to solve the mystery was very exciting.

Miss Mabbitt: Tea, Miss Caroline?
Miss Caroline: Not now!

Dan: Okay, go ahead-lock me up-only I'm not talking.
Clayton: That's no way to act sonny. Be a man.

"Sing for your Supper" is a hilarious comedy about the Piper family. It involves teen-age girls and their singing "Idol". The play shows how older people as well as younger people can be duped by misleading events. In the end two valuable lessons are learned by all--that parents are not as much against teenagers as they would like them to believe, and that maturity is not to be found in screaming or swooning for an idol.

Ellie: "S-t-e-v-i-e!"
Barbie: "Let me have a lock of his hair."
Stephen: "Let me go!"

Ranny: "Snuggle up!"
Biff: "He's just being coy!"

JUNIOR PROM

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Junior Prom Queen.

Everyone enjoyed dancing to the music of The Phil-Marshall Orchestra.

Susie Jones

The prom was held at the I. U. Medical Center, in the ballroom which was beautifully decorated in keeping with the theme "Swinging on a Cloud."

The lovely queen of the prom, Susie Jones, was crowned by last year's queen, Lois Ellen Carmichael. Susie and her escorts, led the Grand March.

The Queen's Court lined up for the opening of the Grand March.

MRS. PATSY WORRELL
Sunshine Sponsor

One of the projects which the Sunshine Society sponsored this year was a semi-formal "Sweetheart Dance." The gym was beautifully decorated. A garden scene formed a lovely background for the crowning of the queen, and a large heart and Cupid himself swung over the heads of the dancers. The entrance to the dancing area was the huge heart of paper roses, that Bonita, Marcia, Barbara and Karen are so happily putting the finishing touches on.

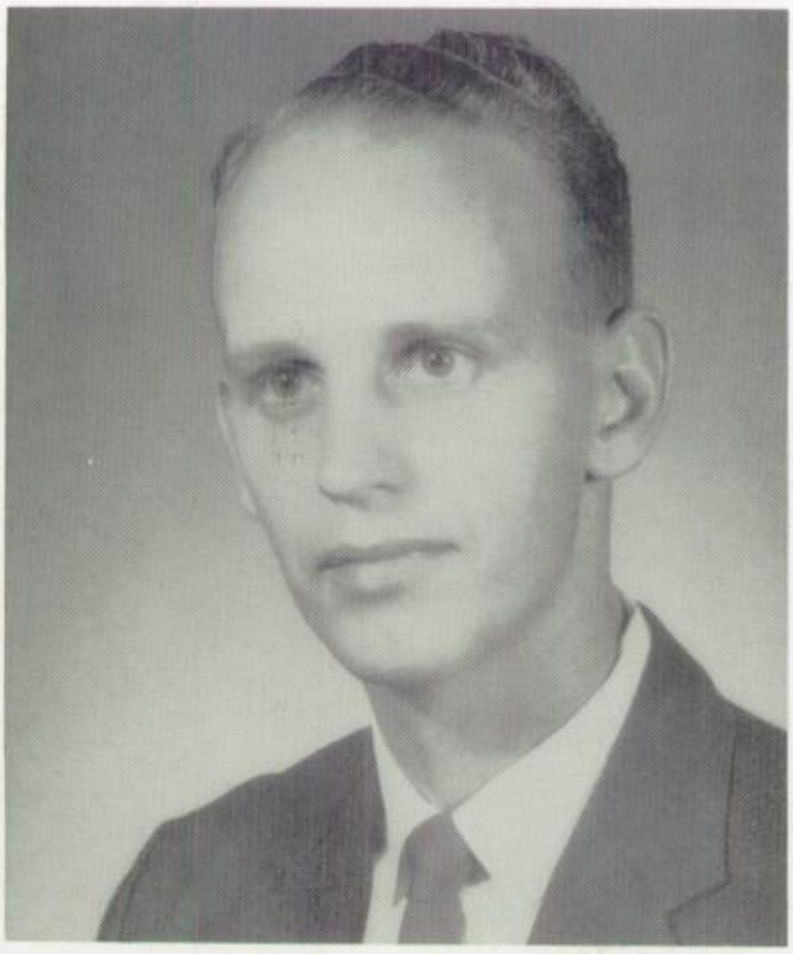
HANCOCK CENTRAL BAND



DIRECTOR
Mr. James Delay

The band has been very active this year. Among their money-making projects were the annual candy sales and the magazine sales drive. The profits were used for music, instruments, and senior sweaters awards. Under the direction of Mr. Delay, the band participated in the band contest at Muncie, and the County Band Festival. They also marched in several parades during the year.

Individual and group awards were won by several members.

Ball games would not be the same without the band accompaniment to the yells and the floor shows between games.

CHORUS

MRS. VIRGINIA BUNTING
Choral Director

The Chorus has enjoyed a very successful year under the supervision of Mrs. Virginia Bunting.

Choral risers were purchased from the profits of their candy sales. Future plans include the purchase of robes.

Several of their members participated in the vocal contest at Ball State Teachers' College on January 28 and received favorable ratings. The quartet composed of Marlene Copeland, Barbara Birch, Janice Welborn, and Sharon Conaway won a superior rating.

Among the activities of the choral group were the County Choral Festival, District Contest, and the Hancock Central Musical. Also, they added much to the school convocations during the holiday seasons.

We, the Yearbook Staff, wish to thank those who helped to make it possible for us to publish this yearbook. We hope that you who read this will patronize those who patronize us.

ANNUAL STAFF

SEATED, Left to Right: B. Sims, B. Williams, Editor; L. Garrett, Editor; J. Clark. STANDING: P. Hunt, S. Bradley, S. Apple, R. O'Neal, Sponsor; J. McCorkle, S. Hyde, D. Isaacs, J. Peacock, S. Jones, J. Sanford.

From our first all-day meeting with Mrs. O'Neal to the pasting of the last stamp on the last copy of be mailed, this Centralian has been one "herculean" effort by all concerned.

First it was a matter of setting up the "dummy" copy, and then gathering and arranging pictures, write-ups, and captions. An added feature of this book is the increased number of pictures.

The advertisement section of this book represents many hours and miles of tramping across this area from one business establishment to another. The business staff also suffered through taking individual pictures and selling subscriptions.

We, the staff, hope the 1961 edition of the Centralian captures the outstanding events of the past year.

We, the staff of the 1961 Centralian, wish to express our sincerest appreciation to Mrs. Ruth O'Neal for her unfailing loyalty and faithful service to us as yearbook sponsor during the past year. Without her untiring guidance, we would never have been able to complete this volume.
